Applications Open for $200 Million Regional Funding Round

Communities in West and North West Tasmania are invited to apply for a share in $200 million under Round Three of the Australian Government's Building Better Regions Fund.

Senator Richard Colbeck is urging communities in the region to take advantage of the fund and get local infrastructure and community-building projects of all sizes off the ground.

"This fund is dedicated to unlocking the economic potential in remote and regional Australia and I encourage all eligible organisations with a great project idea to apply for the third round of funding," Senator Colbeck said.

"Our region has already benefited from Rounds One and Two of the Building Better Regions Fund with $3,276,098 already invested through 10 projects - driving economic growth on the West and North West Coasts and delivering lasting benefits to our local communities."

"Key projects like the construction of the Ulverstone Museum and Art Gallery Complex, the King Island Airport Airfreight Precinct Development and the development of the Cradle Coast Regional Futures Plan are all being delivered by the Coalition Government under the BBRF."

Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Infrastructure, Transport and Regional Development Michael McCormack said the projects delivered under Round 3 will ensure regional and remote communities continue to thrive.

"We have had fantastic outcomes over the first two funding rounds of the Coalition Government's Building Better Regions Fund and I expect Round 3 to deliver more of the same with up to $45 million earmarked to increase tourism," Mr McCormack said.

"Tourism is a major industry in many of our regional areas, and this investment in tourism-related infrastructure projects will draw more visitors to remote and regional Australia and the economic benefits they bring with them.

"In this third round we are investing a further $200 million – a clear indication of the Government's commitment to investing in projects that create jobs, build regional economies and ensure strong and resilient regional communities into the future."

Applications opened on 27 September 2018 and close on 15 November 2018.
